B BIN N Infallible Nervine

The Great Nerve Tonic

Read this letter

Gentlemen: I bought three bottles of your medicine from my druggist. The medicine rendered me very good service, but I am sorry to say that the druggists here are all sold out of your medicine. I should have bought six bottles instead of three. I will have to take six bottles of the Nervine and Blood Tonic, and request that you write me, if you are able to read this, for I am rather old to write. I have suffered six years from NERVOUS TROUBLE, caused by a fall, and from whole body remained in a terrible but no pain. Every doctor I consulted failed to help me, and I was compelled to give up all housework. Then I read your advertisement and bought your medicine, and almost immediately after commencing its use I knew I was a new woman. I hope you will write me at once, and tell me how much more I must send, as I am anxious to get to using your medicine again soon. With most hearty regards, I remain,

WHENCE NAMES COME

THE SURPRISING CHANGES THAT TIME HAS WROUGHT.

Who Would Think, For Instance, That the Name Thomas Whitehorse Originally Indicated "Thomas at the Sign of the White Horse?"

Considering the surprising changes that many names have undergone, says Miss Laura Alton Payne in the Independent, the almost universal lack of knowledge concerning their origin is not to be wondered at. What is there in "Peter Snooks" to suggest to the uninitiated that originally it was "Peter at the Seven Oaks?" Though "Thomas Whitehorse" suggests the American Indian custom in names, originally it was "Thomas at the White Horse," or "Thomas at the Sign of the White Horse" (a tavern). Sidney is a corruption of St Denys, Sinclair of St. Clair, Seymour of St. Maur, Janeway of Genoa, Curtis of "courteous," Armitage of "hermitage," Spark of Sparrowhawk. Emerson and America had the same origin—Almeric, an old Norman name, Amerigo being the Italianized form.

Names, like things, are not always what they seem. Beers and Berry are not "beers" and "berry," but a corruption of "borough," often written "bury" and "bery."

In the beginning a single personal name sufficed. For awhile no two persons bore the same name, but as a stock of names accumulated repetitions became common, and as the population of the world increased distinctive names became necessary; hence we read of John the Baptist and John the Disciple, Darius Hystaspis and Alexander the Great, Joshua, son of Nun, and Simon Barjonas—"Simon, son of Jonas."

Surnames were first used in France, becoming general there during the latter part of the tenth or the fore part of the eleventh century. They were used hereditarily to some extent, however, prior to that time. They were introduced into England at the Norman conquest in the year 1066, but it required two or three centuries to establish the body of our nomenclature on a fixed basis. During that time surnames became general throughout the British isles except in Wales, in some parts of which they are unknown to this day.

Surnames are now general in all civilized countries, I believe, except Turkey. In England alone there are from 40,000 to 50,000 existing surnames.

Surnames have been drawn from every available source—personal names, location, occupation, deeds of prowess, mental, moral and physical attributes, terms of relationship, the human body, farm and household articles, buildings, foods and drinks, modes of travel, nations and laws, customs and religions, geographical terms, weather and seasons, months and days, measures and values, the joys and ills of life, the animal, mineral and vegetable kingdom and even from the kingdom of heaven. The use of nicknames and compound terms gave an almost inexhaustible source. Even oaths became embodied, as in Pardoe, from par Dieu.

In most countries it is customary for the wife to take her husband's name, but in some European countries it is not unusual for the husband to append the wife's name, particularly when it is more honorable than his own. Hyphenated names and the wife's retention of her maiden name for a middle name are customs growing in favor in the United States and Great Britain.

Among the earliest names introduced by the conquest were found Serl, Drew, Bryce, Harvey, Arnold ("ern"—eagle), Albred (now known as Albert and Allbright), Almeric, Ingelram, Ebrardus (Everard), Warin (Guerin, now Warren), Ivo, Hamon (Hammond), and Payn (originally Pagan). After their adoption as surnames the most of these became obsolete as personal names.

The most popular personal names since the Domesday Book recorded them have been John and William, but their derivatives are too numerous to mention here. Roger, Robert and Richard took a double nickname in H and D; hence Hodge and Dodge, Hobbs and Dobbs, Hicks and Dicks, with the rougher forms of the last—Higgs and Diggs, and even Hitch, giving rise to Dickens, Hitchcock and Higginson.

Diminutive and other affixes served an important part in the origin of surnames from personal names. The Anglo-Saxon "kin" and "cock" and "ing" are represented in Jenkins, "little John;" Hitchcock, "little Richard," and Browning, "little Brown;" the Norman "ot" and "et," in Eliot, "little Elias," and Emmet, "little Emma" (sometimes "lot" and "let," Hamlet, "little Hamon"); the French "on" and "en" in Marion and Dickens.

Many prefixes were used. The Celtic "Mac" or "M" of the Scotch; "Mc" of the Irish; "Map," "Ap," or "P" of the Welsh, and the Norman "Fitz" (Latin fils), signify "son" or "son of," and the Irish "O," "grandson of."

A fair knowledge of English nomenclature, declares Miss Payne, gives a fair knowledge of English history, so closely are the two interwoven.

Called the Bluff.

Mrs. X.—Yes, I tried to make my husband economize in smoking, so I told him if he ever smoked I would never speak to him again. Mrs. Y.—What was the result? Mrs. X.—His cigar bill was doubled the next month.

There can be no friendship without virtue, for that intimacy which among good men is called friendship becomes faction when it subsists among the unprincipled.—Sallust.

Ancient Salads.

The lettuce was deemed by the ancients the food of the dead because when Adonis, the beloved of Venus, was mortally wounded by a wild boar the weeping goddess laid him upon a bed of soft and tender lettuce, whose milky juice possesses soothing and narcotic qualities. Lettuce was eaten by the ancients at the close of their repasts, as from its cooling qualities it was considered an antidote to the heating effects of wine. The bitter herbs which the Jews ate at the passover were wild lettuce, succory, tansy, camomile and dandelion, and this same race are the inventors of the salad compounded of oil, vinegar, sugar, salt and mustard to render the bitter herbs palatable. The Irish two centuries ago made their salads of sorrel, wood sorrel and beet chopped with vinegar, beer and a little sugar, but no oil, salt or mustard. Readers of classic history will remember how a lettuce caused the cruel death of Cambyses, king of Persia and Media, and of his consort, who was also his sister.

Municipal Thrift.

On the way from one town on Cape Cod to another a contributor to the Boston Transcript came upon a charming house by the roadside, which immediately claimed his attention. It bore a fresh coat of white paint, which was well set off by green blinds. There was a smooth piece of lawn in front, a group of fine shade trees and hammocks, piazza chairs, brilliant sofa pillows and all the adjuncts of summer comfort in luxurious profusion.

"Whose place is this?" he demanded of the boy of twelve who accompanied him as guide and adviser in general.

"That there?" said the boy. "Oh, that there's the poorhouse."

"The poorhouse!" the man exclaimed. "You seem to have luxurious paupers in this town."

"Well, you see," was the explanation, "we hain't got but one, 'n' she's an old woman, 'n' the overseers they board her out with one o' the neighbors 'n' let the poorhouse to some o' them Boston folks for the summer, 'n' that pays her keep."

How to Boil Water.

To boil water would seem to be a very simple thing, and yet the late Charles Delmonico used to say that very few people knew how to do it. "The secret is," he said, "in putting good fresh water into a clean kettle already quite warm and setting the water to boiling quickly and then taking it right off for use in tea, coffee or other drinks before it is spoiled. To let it steam and simmer and evaporate until the good water is in the atmosphere and the lime and iron and dregs only left in the kettle is what makes a great many people sick, and it is worse than no water at all." For water boiled like this and flavored with a few drops of lemon juice Mr. Delmonico used to charge as much as for his best liquors, and he often recommended it to his customers and friends who complained of loss of appetite. It is worth trying. —Good Living.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and is harmless.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels—thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon. Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The gums and resins obtained from pine trees have long been recognized as highly beneficial in the treatment of backache, kidney and bladder troubles. Pine-ules is the name of a new medicine, the principle ingredients of which come from the pine forests of our own native land. Sold by C. A. Light.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. Makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, and draws out the inflammation. It should be kept on hand for immediate use.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

It is not difficult to relieve blind bleeding, itching or protruding piles with ManZan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in c Hapenable tubes with nozzle, and may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by C. A. Light.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

For bloating, belching, indigestion, etc., eat a Ring's Dyspepsia Tablet after meals. Sold by C. A. Light.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is De Witt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bedtime when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

Salve! Salve! Spread the Salve, but let it be Pine Salve, natures remedy for cuts, burns, sores, etc. Sold by C. A. Light.

Diphtheria, sore throat croup. Instant relief, permanent cure. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug tore.

For headache, constipation, etc., Dade's Little Liver Pills are the best. They cleanse and tonic the liver. Sold by C. A. Light.

NATURE'S POISONS.

The Part They Have Performed In Civilizing the World.

"Poison," as a single word of the English language, carries with it more instinctive warning and repugnance than invest any other word in the glossary of English speech. Whether spoken or written the word at once challenges the attention and the imagination to horror of evil. There are only three poisonous serpents in the geography of North America, yet because of these three varieties alone the whole reptilian family is condemned to death at sight.

And yet, strangely anomalous as it may appear, the existence of active poisons in the animal, vegetable and mineral kingdoms of nature has done more for the development of modern civilized man than have all the other innocuous elemental things which aboriginal man found to his hand. These active poisons were man's first stimulus to thought. Even in the figurative Eden there was one fruit of which man might not eat. "Why not?" was his first question, and the only rational answer was for him to eat and see.

Waving aside this literal Eden as apocryphal and metaphorical, the aboriginal man was confronted by the same literal condition as to the things which he should not eat or touch or smell. His environment was that of the torrid zone. Nakedness was his condition. Exposure to the venoms and animal, plant and mineral life was a consequence against which only a quickened intelligence could insure immunity. The fruit of one plant he discovered to be life, the touch of another was death. He could avoid the giant carnivora of the jungle which would have searched him out with tooth and claw, but he had little resource against the creeping, crawling things whose fangs and stings meant convulsive suffering, horrors and death to his kind. He knew the sweet waters of the hills, but must learn to guard against the brackish, excoriating waters of the deserts. "Why?" because in this manner his first voiceless question and the stimulus of the interrogation were the making of the civilized man.—Technical World.

COINCIDENCES.

Some of the Queerest Recorded In the History of the World.

The late well known archaeologist, Albert Way, crossing Pall Mall, cannoned against an old gentleman. After mutual apologies cards were exchanged. On each card was printed, "Mr. Albert Way." The older gentleman, dying, left his fortune to the other Albert Way.

The planet Neptune, which had for countless ages revolved in the heavens unseen by any one on earth, was discovered simultaneously and independently in 1846 by Professor Adams and M. Leverrier, the two most brilliant astronomers of the day.

Some years ago a shepherd boy placed a sleeper on the railway line between Brighton and Palmer, with the result that a train was thrown off the rails. One year later to a day, almost to a minute, that same youth was struck by lightning and instantaneously killed within a couple of miles of the spot at which the accident occurred.

The four King Georges of England all died on the same day of the week.

In 1890, a few weeks before the census taker began the enumeration of the people of Elm Grove, Va., the town authorities counted their own population preparatory to filing articles of incorporation. The following was the remarkable result: Number of males over twenty one years of age, 148; number of males under twenty-one years of age, 148; number of females over sixteen years of age, 148; number of females under sixteen years of age, 148.

Some years ago in Teheran an English sailor was caught in the act of carrying off some precious stones from the shah's palace. The thief was brought before the "king of kings," who swore that the next time the sailor crossed his path he would at once be put to death. It is a curious fact that this very sailor was crossing the street when the shah was driving in Berlin some time after and was knocked down and instantaneously killed.—Pearson's Magazine.

Tennyson's "Brook."

It is not generally known that Tennyson's beautiful poem, "The Brook," once came very near perishing. One day the Rev. Edward Rawnsley was sitting with the poet in his lodgings in London, when Tennyson began burning papers and manuscripts and was about to destroy "The Brook," says Home Notes.

"Stop, stop! You mustn't burn that!" said Mr. Rawnsley. "It is one of the best things you have written."

"Is it?" said the poet, and put it back.

Stupid Jeweler.

Miss Inez Entz—Yes, Mr. Fickel proposed last night, and we're engaged now. I'm so happy! And I'm the first girl George ever loved too!

Miss Wise—Yes? I don't notice your ring. Didn't he give you one?

Miss Inez Entz—Yes; but, you see, he had to take it back to have it fixed. The stupid jeweler made the inscription read, "George to Genevieve" instead of "George to Inez."—London Sketch.

Not a Falsifier Either.

"Patching and darning, as usual, are you?" said the caller.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Lapsling. "I tell Samuel I save him a good deal of money by being so mendacious."—Chicago Tribune.

The man of meditation wastes no time, scatters no energy, misses no opportunity.—Besant.

SHOW TOMORROW NIGHT.

An Excellent Company at Opera House For Remainder of the Week.

One of the strongest stock companies on the road will open a four nights' engagement in the opera house tomorrow night and Manager Shuster is to be congratulated in having secured this attraction. It is the Ethel Desmond company. This organization has recently played the large Southern cities and met with the greatest success. They were to have opened a four weeks' permanent stock at the Unique theatre, Akron, O., but owing to alterations and a change of management the engagement there has been postponed one week, hence their appearance here.

The opening play will be "For His Brother's Crime; or Sheridan Keen, Detective," a thrilling detective comedy drama judged by critics of the south as the equal of any detective yet produced. The author of this play, Mr. Walter M. Ebel, will appear in the leading role, supported by Miss Ethel Desmond, considered one of the most versatile leading ladies on the stage today. The entire cast is an exceptionally strong one, while the specialties are entirely new and entertainin .

The story of the play is that of a young man who became a detective to avenge a crime his younger brother was made to commit. His chase after the society rogue leads him through many exciting adventures and perilous predicaments. A great robbery takes place in the first act, but the young detective, owing to a lightning change of disguises and personality recovers the fortune. This drama is a continual war of the scheming of the society rogue and the adroitness and brains of the detective, who finally captures, single handed, not only the man who made his brother a criminal, but the entire gang of thieves in their New York den.

The play is replete with startling situations and thrilling climaxes. There is not a dull moment in the entire show. The comedy is a continual laugh and it is doubtful if as strong a detective and society drama has been seen here this season.

Among the features in the specialty line will be Prof. Henry Marcus, in magic and illusion, who will positively present some of the great Kellar's most successful tricks. Thursday night, "The Great Diamond Robbery;" Friday night, "Young Buffalo Bill."

To Build Extension.

Vice President and general manager S. L. Tone, says that all the material for the extension of the street railway from Allenport to Roscoe has been purchased and that work on the same will be started in a comparatively short time. An effort is being made to secure the right of wayt through from Roscoe to California. So far they have not secured the right of way through Elco, but the officials of the company will send a man to that district shortly for the purpose of negotiating for the way. According to the officials, the additional line will take less than a month to complete. Mr. Tone says they will not stop until California is reached.

WEBSTER NOTES.

Mrs. R. L. McMahon spent Saturday with her parents at Elizabeth.

Mrs. John Taylor was calling on friends in Charleroi the greater part of yesterday.

"Cleaning house" now occupies the undivided attention of the thrifty house wife.

Mrs. Frank Myford is considerably improved after a severe attack of rheumatism.

Thomas Hartman, of Monongahela, was a recent visitor at the home of U. A. Wall.

Rev. John Steffy, of Elizabeth, preached a sermon to the congregation at Felis church Sunday.

John Vogel, of the Union Hotel and John Thomas are transacting business in the county seat today.

Swallow & Markle's floating palace is at the river at Donora and will give a performance this evening.

James Bailey, superintendent of the Budd mine, is able to be out again, after having been confined to his room for a few days.

All the mines here have now resumed operation, the Budd and Ella mines having started yesterday and in a few days no one will know there was a strike.

Many New Improvements.

The police committee of Connellsville have announced plans for installing a telephone police and fire alarm system. Boxes are to be placed at all of the principal corners. The Tri State Telephone Co. have offered to donate the necessary service to the boro. This is only one of many new improvements. They have recently purchased new fire equipment, enlarged the police force and secured a new patrol wagon.

Saved From Drowning.

By being expert swimmers, two lives were spared recently and until they are awarded to some one this week as second prize at Sergents Shooting gallery, will enjoy their short respite, in the window. Also beautiful first prize. Try your aim.

Condition Improved.

William Burns, the miner injured at Coal Center Saturday and who was taken to the hospital at Monongahela, where his left leg was amputated above the knee is on the road to rapid recovery. It was thought at the time that his injuries would prove fatal.

Showing Pretty Line.

One of the prettiest lines of novelties in Easter packages of the famous Apollo chocolates ever seen in Monessen is being shown at Kirk's drug store.

Feast of the Passover.

Last evening the feast of the passover was celebrated by the Hebrew people throughout the world and for eight days the Orthodox Jews will eat unleavened bread.
